FOREVER HOME

Our Renewed Vision for Life-Saving and Adoption

Dear Friends,

The Animal Rescue Fund of the Hamptons (ARF) has been helping homeless and abandoned animals since 1974. Over the last 46 years, tens of thousands of cats and dogs have received compassion, food, shelter, medical care, training, and – ultimately – their forever homes with new families through the committed efforts of our staff and volunteers.

The number of shelter animals euthanized annually has declined in recent years, but our mission will not be fulfilled until all healthy and treatable cats and dogs in shelters are saved. While we work determinedly each day, the fact remains that our facilities are aging, and the needs of our local community are changing. Our animals deserve housing we would want for our own pets, in an environment that openly welcomes volunteers and adopters and reflects the high-quality care our animals receive every day.

As we approach our 50th anniversary, we are excited to embark on Forever Home, our renewed vision dedicated to our animals, people, and community. This ambitious 4-year effort will transform ARF by making critical investments in our buildings and strengthening ARF's endowment and reserve funds, which allow us to say “yes” when we receive a call for help.

The need is great, and the time to act is now. We take tremendous pride in being the region's premier rescue and adoption center, and with that comes the responsibility to lead by example.

I hope you will join us as we build a Forever Home for ARF.

Sincerely,

Scott Howe, ARF Executive
Director and CEO, with Mogi

ANIMAL WELFARE

ARF IS A REGIONAL LEADER IN A NATIONAL EFFORT

Since 1974, ARF has been a refuge and vital link to a new families for homeless animals in our local community.

6.5 million companion animals enter shelters every year. 3.2 million cats and 3.3 million dogs enter shelters every year for reasons including costs, animal health problems, human health problems, and behavior.

ARF has saved over 30,000 animals from euthanasia.

860,000 cats and 670,000 dogs are euthanized every year in communities across the country. An increase in adoptions, transports, and returns of stray animals to their owners has resulted in a 42% decline in euthanization of treatable animals over the last decade.

Many families on Long Island's East End need assistance.

We know that many families in our community cannot afford essential wellness, training, or food to keep pets in their homes. Animals provide companionship during uncertain times, and help us cope with job loss, health concerns, and social isolation. The human-animal bond can be life-saving, and that is the core of ARF's Mission.

OUR CHALLENGE

PREPARE ARF FOR THE NEXT 50 YEARS

ARF's infrastructure requires critical improvements and must be revitalized now

There have been no improvements to our public spaces, catteries, or kennels in 20 years. In addition, ARF's buildings and technology infrastructure were not designed for the number of visitors, volunteers, and adopters who frequent the campus annually.

Rescue is just the start of our responsibility

Every animal rescued by ARF deserves comprehensive and holistic care, including the same level of medical care we would want for our own companions. Shelter animals also need intensive training, enrichment, and meaningful interactions with people every day. Without this level of care, shelter animals can develop long-term physical and behavioral health issues that will increase their length-of-stay and make them less likely to be successfully adopted.

ARF's Endowment and Reserve Funds sustain our programs through every season and allow us to answer urgent calls for help in times of crisis.

ARF TODAY

SAVING LIVES

Since 1974, ARF has saved 30,000 homeless cats and dogs through our Transport and Adoption programs

ARF works locally and with partners across the country to transport animals from over-crowded and under-resourced communities to Long Island where they are quickly adopted.

ARF's annual adoptions have doubled in the last 10 years as its rescue efforts expanded in response to natural disasters and national animal welfare initiatives.

We care for animals regardless of how long it takes to find a home, providing medical, behavior, and enrichment programs they need to become adoptable.

Through Op-Cat, ARF has spayed/neutered over 27,000 cats

Cats without homes can quickly multiply, creating large populations and forcing overcrowded shelters to consider euthanasia.

Through ARF's trap/neuter/return program, we have humanely prevented the suffering of hundreds of thousands of local kittens who would have been born without a home.

SUPPORTING OUR COMMUNITY

ARF offers locally-focused programs to keep pets with their families and out of shelters.

- › Dog Training Classes: As part of ARF's comprehensive and holistic approach to rescue and adoption, all dogs in our care receive behavioral training as needed. Affordable dog training classes are also open to the public.
- › Pet Food Pantry: Over the past year, ARF distributed more than thirteen thousand pounds of pet food to families in need, a program we plan to expand in the years to come.
- › Free and Low-Cost Clinics: ARF has long offered low-cost vaccine clinics to the community and has expanded in response to the economic crisis created by COVID-19.

"Our dog training classes help prevent people from surrendering their dogs for behavioral reasons. After 15 years at ARF, what I love most is working with owners to achieve results in their dog's behavior that they never thought were possible."

ARF TOMORROW

FOREVER HOME: OUR RENEWED VISION FOR LIFE-SAVING AND ADOPTION

Forever Home will ensure that ARF can continue to provide excellent and compassionate care for our animals and renew our commitment to the local community through services that keep animals safe, healthy, and with their families.

Philanthropic funds raised will support critical improvements to the ARF facilities to ensure animals, staff, and visitors are safe and happy in a welcoming environment.

In the coming years, ARF will increase its life-saving capacity by helping more animals than ever before. We will serve as a safety net for residents facing financial hardship and continue to be relevant as fewer animals are euthanized.

THE RICHARD WELLS MCCABE WELCOME CENTER

ARF's adopters will be greeted in a spacious, redesigned, light-filled lobby. The space will feature retail, meet-and-greet rooms, and new homes for small dogs and puppies.

Additionally, ARF's catteries and kitten room will be completely renovated and include custom-built features for climbing, perching, and play.

The HVAC systems in the Medical Wing and throughout the entire facility have been custom designed for the health and comfort of animals and people.

FOREVER HOME

A NEW KENNEL BUILDING FOR ARF'S DOGS

Our dogs will move into a new 40-kennel building constructed with high-quality materials and engineered for noise mitigation. The new building will include with flexible rooms for dogs with special needs, meet-and-greet rooms for adopters, and new outdoor exercise areas. A sophisticated HVAC system will cool, heat, and dehumidify the air, as well as treat it for pathogens, and a nitrogen-reducing waste treatment system will lessen our impact on the environment.

This naming opportunity is still available. Please contact scott@arfhamptons.org to learn more.

FOREVER HOME

THE WILLIAM P. RAYNER TRAINING CENTER

A new 8,400 square foot year-round training center will be built on-site to accommodate year-round training, socialization, and enrichment to ensure animals become or remain adoptable, and increase our capacity to provide classes for the public and ARF's adopters.

This state-of-the-art facility will include a viewing area, outdoor play yard, ample parking, and an environmentally conscious waste system.

YOUR GIFT WILL BRING JOY TO THOUSANDS OF LIVES

JOIN US IN BUILDING A FOREVER HOME FOR ARF

At this pivotal moment in ARF's history, we are inspired to take bold steps to secure our future. We are energized by our animals, adopters, and donors. We know that our years of success can be attributed to our dedicated supporters, and we know that this will also be true as we look to our future. Visionary philanthropic support is crucial to ensure ARF remains a leader in the local and national movement to rescue cats and dogs, provide quality care, and offer sanctuary until loving homes can be found.

Our ambitious goals match the significance of our work to the lives of people and animals alike.

ARF MAKES TAILS WAG

“ We knew we wanted a dog that would have challenges getting out of the shelter – the obvious answer was an older dog! We adopted 10-year-old Deacon from ARF. Deacon had been in the shelter for almost a year and nobody looked at adopting him. Deacon changed our life. He is perfect, and he is our absolute treasure. He has given us more than we could have ever imagined.
– Kyle and Andy

“ They didn't give up on Arianna. Her needs were special and they kept her safe and loved until it was time for us to find her!
– Cheryl Spampinato

“ One day in August, we decided to make a stop at ARF – just to see what dogs were there. Samantha was the very first dog we saw and it was love at first sight. She is an adorable addition to our family and we are thankful every day that we walked into ARF that summer afternoon.
